A PHYSICAL BATTLE MAY BE RESULT

If Thaw Is Freed on the Habeas Corpus Case at Littleton

RUMORS OF KIDNAPING

Are Flying Around and Extra Precaution Is Being Taken to Safeguard Prisoner—Family Representative Present.

Associated Press Telegram.
Columbia, N. H., Sept. 15.—Harry Kendall Thaw awaited anxiously today the arrival of U. S. Marshal E. P. Nute, bearing notice to Sheriff Drew of Coos county that the fugitive must be produced on a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Aldrich in the United States district court at Littleton tomorrow morning.

Thaw will then be under the protection of the United States, pending disposition of the writ and this guarantee of safety, in the face of so many kidnapping rumors, was a source of relief to him.

Nute did not arrive on the morning train, and Thaw's custodian, Sheriff Holman Drew, said he did not expect him until this afternoon. "We will probably not take Thaw to Littleton until tomorrow morning," he said. "There is a train leaving here shortly after six, which would bring us there in plenty of time to be in court at eleven."

William T. Jerome, New York's special deputy in the Thaw matter, planned to accompany Thaw to Littleton, as did Franklin Kennedy, deputy attorney general, and Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess county. The Thaw lawyers desired to have arguments continued in order that the writ may be available at a later date if it be found necessary to block extradition.

If Judge Aldrich should insist that argument proceed tomorrow, it might result in the freeing of their client at once, prior to the extradition hearing, which Governor Felker has set for Wednesday. With Thaw free again, serious complications are possible. His lawyers would be acting within their rights if they attempted to rush him from the state. Jerome and his forces would, of course, attempt to hold him. A physical struggle between factions is not out of the question and both sides will have a lot of private detectives on hand. Thaw retired early last night, after a Sunday spent entirely within doors. Most of the day he conferred with the family representative, former Governor Stone of Pennsylvania.

EXTRADITION PAPERS FILED.

Associated Press Telegram.
Concord, N. H., Sept. 15.—The official request of the state of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw was filed at the office of Governor Felker today in the state house by Bernard Jacobs, a lawyer of Lancaster, N. H., who was acting for the New York authorities.

Governor Felker's desk was buried beneath a pile of letters and telegrams relating to the Thaw case. Most of these messages appeared to be the result of a movement originating in Kansas to create sentiment favorable to Thaw.

MAY RETURN THAW TO THE DOMINION

STRANGER DIES; NEVER REGAINS CONSCIOUSNESS

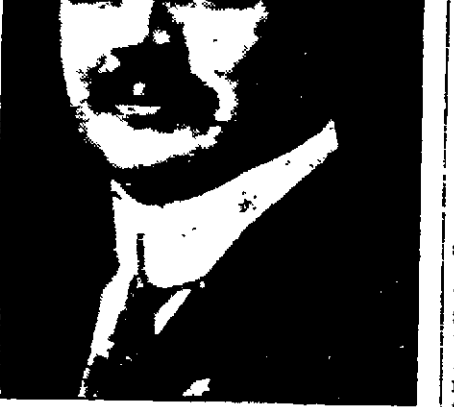

The identity of the man who was found in an unconscious condition near Central City last Thursday night will remain a mystery, as the unfortunate individual died at the county infirmary Sunday night at 7 o'clock, without having regained consciousness. The body was interred in the burial plot at the county farm Monday afternoon, simple services for the dead being read at the grave.

Paralysis or acute alcoholism was responsible for the man's death, according to information secured at the infirmary. There was no mark of any kind on the man's clothing, and all efforts on the part of the police department and county officials to learn his identity failed.

New Board of County Commissioners Assumes Office Monday Morning

At least three Licking county men were without jobs Monday. They were Messrs. J. E. Brownfield, G. T. Tavenor and S. L. Tatham. But they were inclined to believe their temporary inactivity had been earned by long terms of service to the people of the county.

The new board of commissioners formally assumed office Monday morning. Personnel of the new board is representative. It consists of Ben B. Jones, of Newark, well known throughout the county as a building contractor; Frank Dumm, now of Newark, but a native of BEN B. JONES.

Franklin township, where he has been a successful farmer for a number of years, and Joseph Orr, a well known farmer from the Ramp Creek neighborhood, west of Newark. All are active Democrats who have taken more than ordinary interest in affairs of the county.

The board organized early Monday morning by electing Ben Jones president, and F. T. Mercer clerk. The members spent the forenoon familiarizing themselves with the state of the county's official affairs and getting ready to proceed with their duties.

President Jones is elected to serve until the third Monday in September, 1914.

The retiring board of commissioners leaves behind a record of unusual activity, a record of results which speak well for the action of the voters in selecting these men to represent the interests of the county. In addition to the regular amount of work which annually presents itself to the board of county commissioners, these men were called upon to face several particularly trying situations, and in each instance they executed the work with general satisfaction.

They assumed office when the county treasury was absolutely without necessary funds, a condition that was a legacy from their predecessors. Two disastrous floods during the past year have entailed great losses on the county and necessitated prompt action on the part of the commissioners.

In the neighborhood of 75 county bridges have been either repaired or entirely rebuilt as a result of the floods. While this total expense mounted to a big figure, there is every reason to believe the emergency have been met by a wise expenditure of the thousands of dollars required.

J. E. Brownfield, of the old board, said Monday that all bridge contracts, and in fact all other contracts, had been awarded only after it had been determined that the bid was not only the lowest in point of initial charge, but that the workmanship and materials were certain to be up to the standard required to give satisfaction to the people of the county.

During the term of the retiring board, 65 miles of county highway improvement was undertaken, and up to date 60 per cent of this mileage has been completed and opened to travel.

Four miles of state-aid pike have been opened and another four miles are now in process of construction. A fitting test of purpose of the retiring board members is their action with regard to the Dodson bridge, a 110-foot structure four

Burglars Enter Home In Andover Street and Secure $156 and Jewelry

While the family of F. E. Jackson, 493 Andover street, was spending Sunday evening away from the house, burglars forced an entrance and after ransacking the house made away with $156 in money and a gold neck chain. The family was spending the evening up town, and upon returning home about 10 o'clock they found the house had been gone through and everything was thrown about. An investigation showed that entrances had been gained through an outside cellar entrance and then through the cellar door into the kitchen.

The money was in a dresser drawer in one of the bed rooms. All the drawers were locked but the locks had been broken. The necklace was a gold chain with a diamond shaped pendant with a pearl in it, belonging to Miss Florence Jackson. The matter was reported to the police department but no clew as to the perpetrators has been found.

Sensational Charges Are Made Against Norman E. Mack By Gov. Sulzer's Investigator

Associated Press Telegram.
Albany, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Norman E. Mack, former chairman of the Democratic National and State committees failed to appear today before John A. Hennessy, Governor Sulzer's special investigator to answer charges of having failed to account for money contributed to him in the last gubernatorial campaign.

In fact, Mr. Mack, through his secretary, served Mr. Hennessy with summonses and complaint in a $2,000 action for libel.

THOUSANDS ATTENDED FUNERAL

Of "Big Tim" Sullivan in New York This Morning

HIS BODY LAY IN STATE

In Rooms of the Association Bearing His Name—The Longest Funeral Train Ever Seen on the East Side.

Associated Press Telegram.
New York, Sept. 15.—"Big Tim" Sullivan passed through the streets of the East Side for the last time today. His body was taken this morning to the old cathedral of St. Patrick, a short quarter of a mile from the rooms of the association bearing his name, where it had lain in state since Saturday afternoon.

Tens of thousands of men and women from every section of New York had gazed on his features there and a throng such as only the East Side can furnish followed it today to the cathedral and to its last resting place in Calvary cemetery, Brooklyn.

A delegation of congressmen, headed by Representative Kinkead, of New Jersey, led the mourners. Behind this delegation marched the longest funeral train the East Side has ever seen. The streets through which they passed were sombre with crape draped on the shop windows.

The Timothy D. Sullivan Association sent its thousands to march behind the body of its standard bearer, each man with a bit of crape on his sleeve, over the long, dusty way to the cemetery. Dozens of other East Side organizations and the army of the Bowery's poor were also in the line.

Seldom has the East Side mourned more eloquently. In the army that passed by his bier as the body lay in state, men in silk hats ribbed shoulders with Bowery tramps, and women in silks and furs mingled with their poorly clad sisters from the tenements.

Many went as they passed the coffin.

8 KILLED IN COBURG EXPLOSION

Associated Press Telegram.
Coburg, Germany, Sept. 15.—Eight persons were killed, seven others are believed to be buried in the ruins, and six more were injured in the collapse of a tenement here early today, as the result of a gas explosion.

Six families were buried in the ruins, and it was not known definitely at noon whether more persons were beneath the debris.

The explosion, which occurred in the gas main in the center of the street, was so violent that it lifted the house bodily several feet. Fire then broke out and several of the injured were badly burned.

YOUTHS FIGHT FOR FAVOR OF YOUNG WOMAN

A bitter rivalry for the favor of the daughter of the household resulted in a cutting affray at the Clary home, 109 Lawrence and Morris streets, Saturday evening. Ray Davis of Akron was badly cut with a razor in the hands of a man named Rose, said to be a railroad employe.

Davis was calling at the Clary home and had his horse hitched just in front of the house. He stepped to the front door in time to see Rose endeavoring to unhitch the horse. Words resented and Rose drew a razor, cutting him over the head and inflicting a number of wounds on the shoulders. The conflict was brought to an end by the razor breaking. Davis was taken to the office of Dr. C. F. Legge, in East Church street, where the injuries were dressed.

A deep east five inches in length, was cut across the top of the head and several wounds in the shoulder were bleeding profusely. He remained until Sunday morning with friends, when he returned to his home in Hoboken. He said he did not intend to prosecute Rose, so it is probable no arrests will be made in the case.

Charges of the gravest nature respecting the alleged misuse of campaign funds are included in Mr. Hennessy's statement.

American Fugitives On the Mexican Desert Are Said to be in Danger

Associated Press Telegram.
Washington, Sept. 15.—One hundred Americans, fugitives on the Mexican desert between Torreon and Saltillo, harassed by bandit bands, according to unconfirmed reports were not mentioned in the early official dispatches today and the state department had no other information of them.

Officials here were inclined to believe the Americans were in no grave danger. Agents of the Constitutional movement stoutly maintained the Americans were in no danger at all and would be protected by Constitutional forces against any roving marauding bands. Officials of the consular service pointed out that the Americans passed Torreon on September 11. The town is in the hands of the Constitutional troops, having transportation of American citizens been taken last May. An American consular agent recently took twelve days with a fast automobile to make the run between Torreon and Saltillo. The fugitives, numbered by women and children and more primitive means of transportation are expected to require much longer.

The territory through which the Americans are traveling is controlled entirely by Constitutionalists and their agents have been given to understand that the United States looks to them for the protection of the fugitives.

NEW FIRM TAKES POSSESSION OF THE PONSORT BUSINESS

Mr. E. J. Ponsart, who has been in the shoe sole business for many years, East China street, for a number of years, disposed of his business to the Brunswick company, and the new owners took possession today.

Mr. Ponsart has not been in his business for the future. The new owners have a string of shoe stores, including the Brunswick shoe store, and the store will be maintained during the coming year.

MURDER MYSTERY CLEARED

Pastor Confesses to Killing Girl and Dismembering Body

THREW TORSO INTO RIVER

From a Ferryboat Making Six Trips for the Purpose—Gruesome Details Given to the Officers by the Girl's Paramour.

Associated Press Telegram.
New York, Sept. 15.—In the hope of branding as an imposter and pseudo priest the Rev. Hans Schmidt, the alleged self-confessed slayer of Anna Ammiller, victim of New York's river murder mystery, church authorities began today a sweeping investigation of Schmidt's record and his pretensions to ordination.

"We hope, of course, to be able to prove that this unspeakable monster was an imposter and he had been using forged papers," declared Mr. Lavelle, rector-general of the archdiocese of New York.

"That is something which we are trying to clear up now. He came to this diocese with credentials which were apparently authentic and genuine, but we know practically nothing of him. His crime is too horrible to conceive. We can only hope that he may prove to have been a pseudo priest."

In his cell in the toms, with his coat as a pillow, Schmidt slept soundly through the night and arose this morning to partake of a hearty breakfast. He had little to add to his alleged confession of last night in which he is said to have told the police that he killed his victim as she lay in bed, cut up her body in the bath tub of the apartment which he had established her, wrapped it in five bundles and dropped the bundles in the Hudson river. To the Rev. L. J. Evers, the Toms chaplain, Schmidt was said to have made the following declaration:

"I was directed to kill her by St. Elizabeth, who is my patron, as a sacrifice, to be commensurate as was the sacrifice of Abraham, in blood."

To the police Schmidt is alleged to have said:

"I killed her because I loved her." The police, believe, however, that he killed her because she was soon to become a mother. They believe that the girl accepted as genuine the marriage ceremony through which she went with her alleged slayer last February and in which he was both priest and bridegroom.

With a view of clearing the mystery surrounding the murder of eight-year old Alma Kellner, whose mutilated body was found in quicklime in the basement of St. Johns Catholic church in Louisville, Ky, two and half years ago, the police sought today to obtain from Schmidt some statement of what he might know of this crime. From August, 1909, till March, 1910, Schmidt was a visitor in Louisville, not officially connected with any church there but a guest in the home of the Rev. Henry B. Westermann, rector of the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Alma Kellner disappeared December 2, 1909, her body was found nine months afterward. Joseph Wendling, janitor of St. Johns church, is now serving a life sentence in prison at Frankfort, Ky, for the crime. Wendling stoutly denied his guilt and the jury did not consider the evidence sufficient to lodge against him a verdict of first degree.

Of Schmidt's antecedents little is known here, save his own claim that he was born in Germany in 1887, was educated there, ordained by Bishop Kestein in St. Augustine's Seminary in Maine and came to New York in 1909. He went to Trenton, N. J., and in December 1910, was appointed rector of the church of the Immaculate Conception.

BURGLAR WORKS IN FLAT; GETS LITTLE MONEY

At an early hour Sunday morning a burglar entered the apartments of M. B. Melch, west end of the Arcade, and operating within ten feet of the bed occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Melch, rifled her purse of a small amount of money, but disturbing nothing else in the apartment.

The burglary was discovered by Mrs. Melch Sunday morning when she found the empty pocketbook where she had left it, on the folding bed in the living room. Burnt matches were scattered about the floor.

Entrance was gained through a window off the court, the burglar having entered the court through a window of the hall which communicates with the Arcade. He passed through the entire length of the flat to the front room, drew down the shade to a front window, and with the aid of matches, searched the pocketbook.

Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan has been very busy prosecuting all forms of graft that have arisen during his administration and in prosecuting the perpetrators, but he has found time to discard practices of favoritism that were established during Republican state administrations. He has made it his policy to vigorously pursue every debtor of the state.

Atty. General Hogan Is Busy Prosecuting All Forms of Graft

Attorney General Hogan and John I. Miller, superintendent of public works, are now forcing payments due from water users and renters of the canal lands. The claims aggregate $40,000, and they have been neglected for years. Practically every dollar of the amount was inherited from previous administrations in the canal land department. Attorney General Hogan says payments must be made.

"A claim of the state against an individual is as valid and strong as a claim from one individual to another, or a claim by an individual against the commonwealth," says Attorney General Hogan. "I shall make the persons owing the canal land department realize this."

In former days, little attention was paid to water rentals in the canal land department. That policy helped machine building.

As a matter of fact, Timothy S. Hogan has made the most proficient Attorney General in all respects that Ohio has had in our time.

Millionaire tax dodgers are fighting the Warnes appointive tax assessor law, because under it their personal property, which they now list themselves, would be placed on the tax duplicate by appointed assessors. This law simply places the millionaire owners of personal property on an equal footing with farmers and home owners whose property is now listed by assessors.

Now comes Hon. James Boyle, contributing and active member of the Association of Ex-Republican Office Holders, opponent of the I. and R. before its adoption by the people, and seeks to create the impression that his services are necessary to preserve this new popular power. In a two column article which Hon. "Jimmy" has sent to editors of Ohio papers, he professed to have an apprehension that, because Gov. Cox prosecuted the grafters, bribers and perjurers who worked up fraudulent referendum petitions, the I. and R. will be destroyed. Despite Hon. "Jimmy's" recent confession of conversion to the I. and R. those who have not forgotten the bitter fight he waged against that principle before the people adopted it, will be reminded that possibly Mr. Boyle had in mind the destruction of the I. and R. when he suggested that Governor Cox permit Ohio crooks to corrupt it and bring it into disrepute with the electors by fraudulent referendum petitions.

One of the deceptive arguments against the Warnes appointive tax assessor law which the millionaire tax dodgers have induced a few Republican papers to publish reads: "No man will be able to put a value upon his property if this law is approved by the people, but the assessor will determine at what it shall be listed." The only class of property that the owner now fixes his own value on is personal property. The assessor values all the real estate of the farmer and small home owner. Why should the farmers and home owners

YOU'RE CONSTIPATED, BILIOUS, HEADACHY

Your Breath is Bad, Stomach is Sour and Tongue Coated—Listen to Me!—Here's a Treat.

A penny a dose, that's all, to clean your sluggish bowels and biliousness and make you feel fine as a fiddle. Try Vegets, just once. They are made entirely from extracts of vegetables, therefore harmless as food. Take dairy, pleasant Vegets tonight and wake up clear as a bell, no sick headache, dizziness, bad taste, no sour, acid stomach, indigestion, foul gases, constipation or biliousness. You take one at night and don't realize anything until morning, when all the sour bile and constipated waste moves on and out of the bowels. No gripping, no discomfort during the day.

Get a trial package at any drug store. They're dandy, act like vegets, you'll be delighted. Quit the old bowel grippers and lax-shockers.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Alcohol and Muscular Weakness.
Very often a man takes alcoholic beverages, because he thinks they increase his strength. But a careful test which has been made with accurate instruments shows that alcohol, instead of increasing strength of the muscles, diminishes their power. Alcohol produces the well known disease of nerve exhaustion or neurasthenia. There have been many cases of this kind. They usually occur in the case of individuals who drink alcohol, as they say, moderately, yet habitually for weeks, months or even years. They think it does them no harm, but the facts are that it is making them exceedingly nervous and undermining their whole nervous system.

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

Bad Roads.
Man must use his whips and goads driving over the rutty roads, he must often push the wagon to assist the horse or mule; and he rears and jerks the lines, and he quickly undermines all the helpful moral lessons that he learned at Sunday school. And his wagon oft gets stuck in the gumbo or the muck and a man can hear him praying seven verses or so away; and he dances and he rants, swearing his Sacred Aunts that an hour on such a highway turned his golden ringlets gray. This fool thing's been going on ever since the nation's dawn, and it's really only lately that the farmer took his tools and got busy making roads, singing merry little odes, as he pushed the shining scraper and the awaybacked sorrel mules. Now over all the western lands there are joyous toiling bands blasting up the blasted gumbo, filling up the ruts and holes; and the farmer views the sight with a spasm of delight, and he's glad that he is living, and he whoops and caracoles. And all cheerily he tracks in to town to pay his tax, for there's fun in paying taxes when the money's wisely spent, though this thing of building roads of our wealth takes mighty loads, no one who is patriotic will begrudge a blooming cent.

Uncle Walt

The Human Procession

Two eminent ex-presidents, William Howard Taft and Porfirio Diaz, will be the recipients of birthday congratulations today. Prof. Taft, who passes his fifty-sixth milestone, has been enjoying a pleasant summer in Canada and has greatly increased his "batting average" as a golfer since he threw off the cares of state and returned to the ranks. Mr. Taft, however, did not leave his country because of any desire of his countrymen to be rid of him, as was the case with Porfirio Diaz, the grizzled old Spanish-Indian statesman and despot who will today celebrate his eighty-third anniversary. After ruling Mexico for over thirty years, Diaz is spending his old age in Europe, an exile from his native land. He has had what ever melancholy satisfaction he may be able to derive from the fact that Mexico has gone from bad to worse, and he has lived to see his successor in office overthrown and assassinated, in accordance with the pleasant custom of the country. And he has seen his nephew, Felix Diaz, who was carefully educated under his supervision, triumph over his enemies and again put the name of Diaz on the front page of the newspapers. Since leaving his country for what Mexico calls at the time considered the country's good, General Diaz has lived principally in France, and he has recently taken up his residence in a magnificent villa at Biarritz. He has spent money freely in Europe, and it is alleged that he has several millions safely invested. Mr. Taft, on the contrary, left the White House financially poorer than when he entered it.

British interests in troubled Mexico are in the hands of an able diplomat, Sir Lionel Edward Gresley Garden, who was appointed His British Majesty's minister to Mexico in July last. Sir Lionel, who was born in County Tipperary sixty-two years ago today, has had much experience as a diplomat in Latin America. He was minister to Guatemala for eight years prior to receiving the Mexican appointment. He first visited Mexico thirty years ago, as a member of a special mission to that country, and in 1905 he was made British consul in the city of Mexico. He was twice in charge of the British legation in the Mexican capital.

Crown Prince Umberto Nicola Tomasso Giovanni, Prince of Piemonte, the only son of the King of Italy, will celebrate his ninth birthday today. The future ruler of the Italians is an exceptionally healthy lad, and has never been really ill. The Queen, who is a daughter of the fiery old king of Montenegro, devotes most of her time to the care of her son and his three little sisters. The Crown Prince made his first public appearance at the celebration in Rome of

WILL RESUME THE HEARINGS AT COLUMBUS
(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Sept. 15.—Hearing of witnesses concerning alleged frauds practiced in the circulation of petitions for referendums on Warnes-Kilpatrick and Green laws will be resumed in the office of the secretary of state tomorrow. Witnesses from Franklin county will be called first and witnesses from Cuyahoga county will follow.

Those who have been conducting the investigation to determine the extent of the alleged frauds claim that they are finding additional evidence each day that will tend to convince the secretary of state that the petitions are not bonafide. It was stated today that a Columbus detective, whose name appeared on a petition twice, yesterday said that he had never signed it at all and that he would make affidavit to that effect.

Daddy's Bedtime Story— Party Is Rudely Interrupted.

Mrs. Skito's

OUTSIDE on the window screens a score of tiny black forms were dancing up and down. They were mosquitoes—hungry mosquitoes very likely—and all waiting for a chance to sneak in and nip the plump arms or cheeks of Jack and Evelyn when they should snuggle down in their little beds and drift off to dreamland.

"Go way, skito!" Jack cried as one mosquito, more determined than the others, wriggled and shoved its thin head through the larger meshes in the screen. Jack had made the hole in the afternoon with the point of his lead pencil, and now he did his best to straighten out the wire.

"Yes," said daddy; "Mrs. Skito ought to be ashamed of herself. I heard her outdoors as I came in.

"She called to one of her friends, 'Come along tonight to the tango tea.'

"Where, oh, where?" asked her sister mosquito.

"Up in Jack's room," Mrs. Skito answered. "He's made a lovely doorway for us in the screen. I saw him when I peeped out from under my leaf."

"Half a dozen other mosquitoes buzzed up. "Oh, Mrs. Skito's going to have a party!" they cried delightedly.

"Yes," gushed Mrs. Skito; "first there will be a dance on the screen outside the window, for it would never do for us to get in there before Jack's daddy goes downstairs. I've heard of shocking things happening to mosquitoes who went in too soon. My poor sister was crushed on that screen one evening."

"We'll be pleased to come," the mosquitoes all buzzed.

"How is your husband, ma'am?" Mrs. Bluebottle buzzed as she flew past. I'm afraid Mrs. Bluebottle doesn't care much for Mrs. Skito.

"Oh, I dare say he is quite well!" Mrs. Skito answered laughingly.

"At home taking care of the house while you're gadding, as usual," Mrs. Bluebottle said grimly.

"Home is a husband's place," Mrs. Skito answered crossly. "My husband, ma'am, doesn't take any interest in society."

"H'm!" Mrs. Bluebottle went on. "And how are your helpless little children? Swimming around the brook, as usual, with no one to take care of them, I suppose."

"Certainly. My children are in their water nursery. In a few days they will be ready to join me, but you can't expect me to go in swimming just on account of the children."

"But there," exclaimed daddy; "I don't believe there will be a party, after all, tonight. Just watch Mr. Spider."

A great big spider came scampering over the screen and pounced on a mosquito, while her frightened companion flew away.

Consistent Rates

Long experience has demonstrated that there is a clearly defined relationship between the percentage of interest earned and the percentage of safety secured.

Risky ventures naturally promise high rates of interest in order to attract money and the low percentage of safety is usually covered up by specious arguments, but a high rate of interest and great safety never have and never will go together.

In this Association we offer you 100 per cent safety and 4 per cent interest, the combination that years of experience in hundreds of sound financial institutions has proven consistent.

First mortgages on real estate, fortified by a large reserve fund, DO really provide 100 per cent safety.

Is not this the ideal investment for your savings?

Society

The Missionary society of North Franklin met at the home of Mrs. Edward Cotterman on Thursday afternoon. An interesting program was given as follows: Select readings by Mrs. A. A. Ennes and Mrs. Driggins, and a short talk by Mrs. James Moran. A discussion of the work done in Sudan, Africa, was conducted by Miss Driscoll, a returned missionary from that country.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Savilla Parr; first vice president, Mrs. B. Dunn; second vice president, Mrs. Frank Osborn; treasurer, Mrs. Bert Watson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Barton Evers; recording secretary, Miss Margaret Taylor. The society will meet with Mrs. James Taylor on October 6.

The past few days many of the young men and women who have finished the course in the local schools have been leaving to continue their studies in the colleges and boarding schools of the country. Among those who will leave this week are: Misses Camille Windle, Bernice Whittemore and Mildred Robe, who will enter the School of Domestic Art and Science at Washington, D. C.; Miss Dorothy Beard will enter the Chevy Chase School near Washington, D. C. Misses Josephine Hilliard, Mary Anderson, Edith Deming, and Blanch Purnam enter Denison University; Messrs. Clifford Sherburne, Howard Rugs, Frederick Hall, Harold Smucker, will enter Denison, James Brown and Ralph Laughlin will enter Ohio State, and Paul Keller and Charles Roach return to continue their studies at Ohio Stirling Medical University.

The Brightening Circle of The King's Daughters will meet with Frances Collins, Tuesday afternoon.

Bans were published in St. Francis de Sales church on Sunday for the first time for the approaching nuptials of Miss Dorothy Keck of Elmwood avenue to Mr. John Birmingham.

Miss Hope Radwell entertained a number of friends with a delightful birthday picnic at Moundbuilders Park on Thursday afternoon. A delicious supper was served the following guests: Mrs. Dale Ryan, Mrs. Jesse Strand, Misses Mayne Casney, Mayne Jones, Margaret Jones, Mary Jones, Mary Young, Corinne Hubbard, Ada Cassman, Lottie Griffith, May Griffith, Florence Wolf, Bernice Himes, Mrs. Matthew Heck, and Master Kenneth Ryan.

The Art Embroidery club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Clifford Jones of Dewey avenue. The hostess served luncheon to the members and guest, Mrs. Fred McKnight.

The Ado club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. L. A. Rose, No. 75 Wing street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m.

GET ENTRIES IN EARLY

For the Licking County Fair. Our County Fair will be held Sept. 30, Oct. 1, 2 and 3, just two weeks away. Let's all get together and boost. It's not up to a few people to make the fair a success but it's up to all of us to get busy for its our county fair and every man, woman and child in Licking county should be interested and take pride in making it a success.

A big thing to help is to get your entries in early. It not only helps the management, but it helps your exhibits for they can be arranged far more satisfactorily.

Unusually good attractions have been secured for the fair this year, and great preparations are being made for the racing events. It is hoped to make this fair one of the biggest and best in the history of Licking county fairs. Help it along by getting your entries in early. 15-11

MINISTER OF THE INTERIOR LEAVES MEXICAN CABINET

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Mexico City, Sept. 15.—Dr. Aureliano Urrutia, Mexican minister of the interior, has left the cabinet. His resignation was accepted at midnight by Provisional President Huerta.

Dr. Urrutia is under charges preferred by Senator Manuel Calero, former Mexican ambassador at Washington, for arresting him in defiance of his immunity as senator. Dr. Urrutia gave as the reason for his resignation of the ministry of the interior that the post required qualities which he did not possess. He is a surgeon and had never before had experience in politics. His anti-foreign sentiments have not been disguised during his term of office and it is said that the foreign diplomats here were opposed to him.

THREW BOARD IN FRONT OF WHEEL WHILE COASTING

Leslie Fishbaugh, aged 12 years, was seriously injured when he fell from his bicycle on Sunday afternoon. He was coasting down a hill when a companion in a spirit of fun threw a board underneath the front wheel.

The bicycle was overturned and young Fishbaugh was thrown off. In alighting he fell on the handlebars, inflicting a serious wound in the lower part of the abdomen. He was removed to his home at 136 Elmwood avenue, where Dr. Cary F. Legge was called to dress the injury.

ELECTRICIANS ARE HOLDING CONVENTION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Boston, Sept. 15.—Three hundred and fifty delegates from all parts of the United States, Canada and the Panama Canal zone, assembled in Faneuil Hall today at the opening of the biennial convention of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. The convention will continue two weeks.

For the first time in the history of the Brotherhood, women were seated as delegates on the floor.

FEED PEACHES TO THE CATTLE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] New Haven, Conn., Sept. 15.—Nature's bounty in the field of late-peaches in the orchards hereabouts, is so generous that the fruit is being fed to the hogs and cattle. Many growers will let peaches waste on the trees and ground, as they cannot get them picked quick enough. The best fruit ever seen here is offered at fifty cents a bushel at the orchards.

THE FORWARD-LOOKING WOMAN versus THE FIRESIDE WOMAN By Barbara Boyd

Ballots And Bullets

"A WOMAN shouldn't vote because she can't fight," the Fireside Woman was saying.

The Forward-looking Woman laughed. "That argument belongs to the ark. It is so moth-eaten, it fell to pieces long ago."

The Fireside Woman looked abashed. She thought she had said something very sound and convincing, for she had heard her husband say it only the night before.

"That argument never did have any force," went on the Forward-looking Woman cheerily, "but admitting it did, even then, it is a thing of the past. Government today isn't for the purpose of fighting, of planning wars and seizing territory. That sort of thing is ancient history. Government today is, or ought to be, for the purpose of making those governed more and more prosperous, and of raising the standard of their well-being. It should be to make the conditions under which people work better, the hours shorter, the remuneration higher, to keep down crime, to increase educational facilities, to make cities cleaner and more healthful, and the whole country more beautiful,—in a word to make the conditions of life better and better. It is the making of the whole country a beautiful, happy and prosperous home for all its inhabitants. Surely women can help in such work, not only can help, but ought to help. They are needed."

"But suppose a war should come. It does now and then, you know," persisted the Fireside Woman. "I wouldn't want to go to fight, would you?" "No. But both you and I would probably go nurse, and that is just as important. But if you want to stick to fighting as a requisite for voting, then all who can't fight, shouldn't vote. And that would mean all the men who for physical reasons can't go to war,—the sickly and crippled, the under-sized, and all over the age limit, and there is a goodly number of these. And conversely, those who can't yet vote shouldn't fight, which would mean all the young men under twenty-one. That argument hasn't a leg to stand on. And anyway, what inherently has fighting to do with voting? In reality, the more fighting blood a man has, the less is he qualified to vote, for he is apt to be swayed by passion, not by reason and sound sense. And these are basic qualifications for voters. One should be able to see impartially and impersonally the right and wrong of a matter in order to vote upon it for the best good of the country. You'll have to take up some better reason for not voting than that."

"I guess my chief reason is that I really am not interested," "But you would be interested, if you'd just look into the subject. There is lots more in it than in bridge or clothes or golf. For it has to do with such vital things, with progress and development and making the country a happier place to live in. It just makes you alive all over."

"Well, maybe I'll look into it," said the Fireside Woman,—"some time."

SAILOR IS LEFT LEGACY OF $50,000

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Duluth, Minn., Sept. 15.—Charles Rowe, a sailor who has been sought as a missing heir during many of the 30 years he has worked on the Great Lakes freighters, learned today that a fortune of $50,000 awaits him in London, Ontario. The fortune, known as the Rispin estate, was left him by a relative, John Rispin, one time a sailor.

Rowe was in an old London, Ont., newspaper, an advertisement of the administrators. He left today to claim the legacy.

NOTED TRAVELER DEAD.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Budapest, Hungary, Sept. 15.—Prof. Arminius Vambery, one of the best known travelers and Orientalists of the nineteenth century, died here today, in his 82d year. He was much revered, both in his native Hungary and other countries, and his work was widely read. He traveled throughout Central Asia as a young man, in the disguise of a dervish, studying the various dialects. On his return he was appointed professor of oriental languages at Pest University.

THIEVES WERE FOOLED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Columbus, Sept. 15.—Thieves mistook a sample trunk filled with empty jewelry boxes for a rich haul of jewelry at the Columbus, Delaware & Marion interurban station early today. They were so disgusted to find only sample boxes, they scattered these about the station. The trunk belonged to H. G. Gladstone, a salesman for a New York manufacturer of jewelry boxes.

PETITION IN COUNTRY CLUB CASE IS FILED

Charges Person Without Authority Canned Deed to State to Read Wrongfully.

Suit filed Saturday by Attorneys B. F. McDonald and Phil B. Smythe, on behalf of the city of Newark and the retiring board of county commissioners and made public Monday, seeks an order of the court to force the board of trade to turn over to the city and county the deed to the former state encampment grounds.

The petition charges that some person without authority caused the deed to the state to read that, should the grounds be abandoned by the state, then they should revert to the Newark board of trade. It is recorded that the property was originally purchased from the owners by the county and city jointly, the former issuing $12,000 worth of bonds and the latter $10,000 worth, and that the property is now worth at least $75,000. The petition further charges that no taxes have been paid on the land. It is contended that the board of trade has no right to let the property, even though by act of legislature it was decided to the board.

CLAIM DISCRIMINATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Columbus, Sept. 15.—Discrimination by the Central Union Telephone Company in favor of the Carey Electric Telephone Company is charged by the Carey Farmers' Telephone Company in a complaint filed with the State Public Utilities Commission here today. The Central Union Company will not give long distance privileges to the Farmers' Company, according to the complaint.

GIRLS OF SCHOOL AGE

Need Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to Keep Their Blood in Good Order.

Girls in their teens are often troubled with thin blood, making the complexion pale, sometimes greenish, the cheeks thin, the lips colorless. There is shortness of breath after the slightest exertion, a general feeling of weakness and a disinclination to study or work. Sometimes a slight cough causes a feeling of alarm that the lungs may be affected.

There is one remedy that will surely correct this form of anemia in growing girls and that is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The action of these pills in such cases is direct and certain.

Every mother whose daughter is pale and thin owes it to her child's future to at once give her a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Neglect at this time may result in a lifetime of misery. Your druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Paris has emphatically taken up the Rembrandt effect for fall and winter millinery as the new imported models show. The rare richness and beauty of the materials employed make the new fall hats exceedingly attractive. In the contest recently conducted by the Illustrated Milliner for the Ladies' Home Journal, the entire American millinery trade was invited to participate and many hundreds of hats were submitted. The hat awarded first prize, $500 is a masterful conception produced by Clarence M. Phipps of New York. This hat was suggested by one shown in the portrait of Admiral Philip Van Dorn, painted by Rembrandt in 1631. With a few minor changes the designer has created a Rembrandt hat that is rich in picturesque quality and color and thoroughly harmonious with the modish costume of the well-gowned woman of today. The lines of the hat are beautiful and the placing of the long, graceful plume is strikingly artistic while the antique bead trimming adds to the rich artistic effect.

This prize hat may be seen at the Clouse & Schauweker store, North Third street. It has been greatly admired by many who have already called to inspect the splendid line of new millinery at the Clouse & Schauweker store. This is the store that carries the Phipps hats. The ladies of Newark and vicinity cordially invited. 15d11

HONOR PRISONERS REPORT TO JUDGE AFTER RELEASE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Chicago, Sept. 15.—Court will be called to order every Sunday morning at 6 o'clock, Municipal Judge John A. Mahoney announced today. This is an innovation in administering justice inspired by the filthy conditions in the cell rooms at the South Clark street police station where Judge Mahoney presides. It will relieve the Saturday prisoners of spending Sunday in jail. The past two Sundays Judge Mahoney visited the station and released 56 prisoners on their honor. The success of the experiment so pleased him that he worked out a plan for holding sessions on the Sabbath.

Twenty-three of twenty-four "honor" prisoners released from the South Clark street station yesterday by Municipal Judge Mahoney upon their promise to appear in court today kept their word. The only missing prisoner is said to be in a hospital. It was the second experiment with "honor prisoners" made by Judge Mahoney in three weeks.

LAST PRACTICE FOR THE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Brookline, Mass., Sept. 15.—The last of practice for the American golf championship which starts tomorrow at the Country club, found nearly all the contenders hard at work studying the distances and the run of the putting green.

Included in the ranks were a score of amateurs who will match their game against the professionals in the hope of finishing in the "plate" if not in the "money."

So large was the number of players at the first tee this morning that half the field began at the eighth hole. The first drives were made before 6 o'clock.

Good caddies were at a premium, although nearly professionals brought their own club bearers, while many carried their own bags.

GRAND LODGE OF ODD FELLOWS AT MINNEAPOLIS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Minneapolis, Sept. 15.—With addresses of welcome by Governor G. N. Eberhardt and Mayor Wallace G. Nye and a brief response by General A. R. Stocker of Minneapolis, Ohio, the 5th annual sovereign Grand Lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows formally was opened here today.

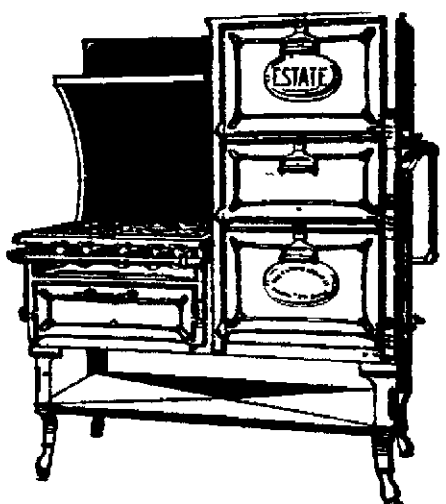

Delegates are present from every part of the United States as well as Canada, Europe, Philippines and Hawaii.

In addition to the Odd Fellows orders, representatives of all Rebekah lodges, the women's auxiliary of the order, are here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Comer have returned from a short wedding trip. They will be at home in Bates street.

CHECK WORKER COMES TO GRIEF IN FOREST CITY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Cleveland, Sept. 15.—A man who gave his name as Joseph O'Neill, was arrested here today charged with obtaining money by false pretenses, by passing a number of bad checks. At a leading hotel where he was arrested, he was registered as Birdie Cree, out-fitter of the New York Americans, whom he claimed to be. His absence from his team was due to his having been spiked, he said. The police claim that he also represented himself as a brother of Catcher O'Neill of the Cleveland club, and that he is wanted in other cities for similar frauds.

GRAND CIRCUIT OPENS TODAY AT DETROIT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Detroit, Sept. 15.—Four events composed today's grand circuit harness racing program at the opening day of the Michigan state fair here. A 2:16 pace, purse $2,000, was expected to be the principal event. Fairly large fields were entered in each race and local followers of the sport hoped to see in action a number of horses, which because of illness, were unable to compete in the Blue Ribbon meeting held here several weeks ago. The other races scheduled for today were a 2:20 trot, 2:05 pace and 2:09 trot.

Worst Is Yet to Come.
Did you take a vacation? See what happened to the summer boarder in our New COMIC—and the Worst Is Yet to Come. Watch for it tomorrow, exclusively in The Advocate. The first of this new series of pictures appears in to-day's Removed From Hospital.

Nrs. Frank Brooks was removed in Bazler & Bradley's ambulance from the City Hospital to the home of T. J. Rolfe, 246 Hudson avenue, Saturday afternoon. She had been a patient at the hospital for some time.

Foreman Transferred.
Mr. T. W. Egan, for a number of years road foreman of engines for the B. & O. railroad in this city, has been transferred to Garrett, Md. Mr. Egan resides with his family in Hudson avenue, and it is probable that they will remove to Garrett in the near future.

Crab Feast at Oakwood.
Dennis White, proprietor of Oakwood Park, Buckeye Lake, has issued invitations for a hand-dred crab feast Thursday from 2 to 6 p. m. Besides the succulent crabs, he will serve sweet potatoes, corn on the cob, salad and other good things to eat. Special arrangements have been made to transport the guests from the station at the park to Oakwood by boat. The indications are that one of the largest crowds of the season will be present, and Mr. White states that he will be able to care for them all.

"Can't Elope" Social.
A "Can't Elope" social will be given at the home of Mr. Charles S. Brown, in Kinkersville, on Thursday evening, under the auspices of the Sunshine and Rain classes of the Kinkersville Baptist church.

Cabbage Shortage.
Fremont kraut makers are having trouble in setting enough cabbage for their factories. Prices for cabbage are from $12 to $15, where in former years $4 was considered a good price.

Bible Class Meeting.
The Harriet Bible Class of Plymouth Congregational church will hold a meeting Tuesday, Sept. 16, at the home of Miss Emma Jones, 361 N. Stanbery street.

To Select Pastor.
The Christian Union church of Maple avenue requests the members to be present Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, for the purpose of selecting a pastor.

Fine Carnival Band.
Prof. Mummolo's Italian concert band, here with the Barkoot Amusement Company, opening his carnival the Jefferson street grounds tonight, gave a free concert on the public square and in front of newspaper offices Monday. The organization was generally conceded to be an excellent one and its music was enthusiastically applauded by the hearers.

County Gets Six.
Fifteen drunks arrested Saturday night and Sunday were arraigned in police court Monday morning and all were fined the usual $5 and costs. Six of the number were ordered confined in the county jail. The list included several notables, among them being Granny Elben and Stonewall Jackson. Another was John Canary, who was labeled by the arresting officer as "a smart guy." Canary was one of those sent to the county jail.

ONE KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT
New York, Sept. 15.—Charles Severs, a wealthy merchant, was killed, and James Dunn, chief inspector of the city department of water, gas and electricity, and Dunn's son, John D. Dunn, were fatally injured when their auto ran off the road and overturned near Pelham Parkway today.

DESCENT OF 1200 FEET INTO CRATER OF MT. VESUVIUS
Naples, Sept. 15.—A distance of 1200 feet was made by Prof. Malladara and his companions in their recent descent into the crater of Mt. Vesuvius. This constitutes a record for any enterprise, it is said. The party spent an hour in making experimental tests and examinations. It is said the temperature of 300 degrees Fahrenheit was reached before the mishap occurred, at the time of the last eruption.

Foreman Transferred.
Mr. T. W. Egan, for a number of years road foreman of engines for the B. & O. railroad in this city, has been transferred to Garrett, Md. Mr. Egan resides with his family in Hudson avenue, and it is probable that they will remove to Garrett in the near future.

Crab Feast at Oakwood.
Dennis White, proprietor of Oakwood Park, Buckeye Lake, has issued invitations for a hand-dred crab feast Thursday from 2 to 6 p. m. Besides the succulent crabs, he will serve sweet potatoes, corn on the cob, salad and other good things to eat. Special arrangements have been made to transport the guests from the station at the park to Oakwood by boat. The indications are that one of the largest crowds of the season will be present, and Mr. White states that he will be able to care for them all.

Remodeling Church.
The work of remodeling the M. E. church in Kinkersville is progressing rapidly and the date of the dedication will be announced soon after the conference.

C. A. C. Team.
The members of the C. A. C. baseball team journeyed to Zanesville on Sunday, where they played the Highlanders. The game resulted in a victory for the Newark team by a score of 14 to 8.

Quarter Century Ago

From Advocate, Sept. 15, 1885.
James E. Lawhead and David Keller went out to Luray this afternoon to address the Democratic meeting. A happy reunion yesterday was that of Fred Rennerburger and his brother Chris of Hamilton, Mo. The latter has been away 36 years. J. E. Giles, contractor of Connelsville, Pa., returned home today, having been spending a few days with his nephew, Dr. Smalley.

Fifty Years Ago Today.
Sept. 15.
President Lincoln proclaimed the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus in the cases of persons held under United States military and naval authority.

Dr. Mary E. Walker, having been refused a commission as an army surgeon on account of her sex, offered to serve as a Federal spy.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.
The death of Henry M. Stanley in the Kongo was regarded as certain in England and the Emin Bey relief committee prepared to dispatch a second expedition.

Inspiring martial music rendered by the Old Guard drum corps lead the members of this crack military organization to the B. & O. station Monday afternoon where they boarded a special car, a part of west bound No. 193, for Chattanooga, where they will attend the annual encampment of the G. A. R. to be held this week in the southern city.

Thirty-eight people made up the party. The special car provided for them will go straight through to Chattanooga via the L. & N. from Cincinnati. The car will be the hotel for the old boys during their stay in Chattanooga, as arrangements have been made for them to spend their nights in the berths of the tourist sleeper.

Fully uniformed and armed with rifles the Old Guard will take part in the monster parade which will be a feature of the week's program.

Those in the party which left Monday are Captain Matthew Bausch, First Lieutenant Hollister, Second Lieutenant Robinson, Captain Sergeant O. P. Sook, Adjutant J. W. Leidigh, Orderly Sergeant James McCrumb, Sergeant James McVeigh, Color Sergeant S. A. Madara, Color Sergeant L. A. George and privates Matt Flemming, Franklin Fry, Louis Gamble, H. E. Griffiths, M. D. Harts, James Fred, Huthinson, G. V. Kearns, David Lowe, Amos Lee, Charles Manville, T. L. Melick, Henry Peck, Israel Wilson, C. C. Williams, Adam Boner, O. H. Ross, Madison Melick, Messrs. Sturges, Strickler, Tritipito, Willard, and Wiley.

The drum corps is composed of John F. Loughman, Jacob Loughman, J. E. Loughman, David Mossholder, Thomas H. Barrens, Clyde Boner and Frank M. Alexander.

Mrs. O. P. Sook and Mrs. James McCrumb, whose husbands are members of the guard, also accompanied the party.

The entire week will be spent in the encampment city and the return trip will be made next Saturday and Sunday.

Company B, Old Guard, was organized in Newark in 1919. It is composed of civil war veterans exclusively, and its membership represents every noted battle of the struggle between the North and South, from the Potomac to the Rio Grande.

There are only two companies of a similar nature, uniformed and equipped, in the country. One is company A of Columbus, and the other is company B of Newark, known as the first battalion, Old Guard. The latter is composed of Newark men and is financed by Newark citizens.

It is representative of the timber Newark and Licking county gave to the civil war, and in attending this encampment, the first ever held south of the Mason-Dixon line in the forty-five years of the Grand Army of the Republic, it carries forward the tradition of a county that furnished the civil war with two generals, Charles W. Woods and William Woods, and a celebrated colonel, Joel C. Walker, whose son is a resident of Chattanooga and who will be one of those to extend a hearty welcome to the Old Guard of Newark.

WEALTHY CHINAMAN OF ZANESVILLE, O. TO BE DEPORTED
Columbus, Sept. 15.—Upon the ground that the evidence offered by the defense to show that the defendant was born in America was not credible, United States District Judge Sater today ordered that Ng You Nuey, wealthy Chinese merchant of Zanesville, be deported.

Nuey's counsel, composing some of the leaders of the Ohio bar made a stubborn fight throughout the case. Judge Sater ordered that Nuey, who is reputed to be worth several hundred thousand dollars, be taken to San Francisco and placed aboard an American transport bound for the Orient.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 15. (Special.)—A spasm of economy moves a few members of the house to speak plainly sometimes when appropriations are considered. Such was the case recently when an effort was made to secure a much larger force for the supervising architect's office so that appropriations which have been made for public buildings might be used speedily. In the course of discussion it developed that the recent public building bills were the worst ever passed on account of the extravagance, the provision for small towns and the absolute lack of any real necessity for such buildings.

Talked of "Pork."

Congressman Sharp of Ohio was very severe on his own party, which, he said, had come into power pledged to economy, and yet it had been more extravagant than the Republican party. He said that the country was shocked a few years ago when it was stated that the billion dollar congress had arrived. A Republican had remarked that this was a billion dollar country. But now we had a two billion congress, and it was time to call a halt.

"I would have a different policy for public buildings if it were possible," said Sharp, "but I cannot. There are too many pieces of fat pork in this barrel. The appropriations for rivers and harbors go with it and are equally censurable. We have too many selfish interests at stake."

Justice For Railroads.

Chairman Adamson of the interstate commerce committee was talking about the proposition to further investigate the railroads of the country. "We will do the best we can to find out about these subjects, but we do not propose to jump on the railroads and abuse them," he said.

"God bless you for these kind words," exclaimed Kinkaid of New Jersey, who has not been in sympathy with the vicious attacks on the railroads.

"We want railroads," continued Adamson. "I know of sections of the country where thousands of miles of railroads are needed. It is the folks who run the railroads that give us the trouble, for they are human and are just as bad and just as good as other people. They have the same amount of cupidity and the same amount of carelessness. They have the same amount of original and acquired sin as other mortals. We want them treated like other people and held to the same accountability."

"Great" Chairmen.

"I am a very great stickler for discipline," said Chairman Adamson of the interstate commerce committee, supporting Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee, "and the only way I know to stick together, to do business and carry out our policies is for us great chairmen of committees to stick together and vote with one another every time."

"The very interesting statement of the gentleman from Georgia," said Congressman Kinkaid of New Jersey, "proves two things. The first is the truth of his statement that the 'great chairmen' of great committees of the house are strangely clannish. The other is that he merited the eloquent tributes paid to him by his fellow members at different times."

Good Authority.

"It has always been held that this motion is highly privileged," said Jim Mann, supporting a contention which arose between himself and Fitzgerald.

"If that is so, where is the gentleman's authority?" demanded Speaker Champ Clark.

"The speaker himself has so held," replied Mann.

"That is good authority," declared Champ solemnly, but amid cheers from the members.

"Cruelty to Animals."

Congressman Bryan of Washington was trying to get the floor to unload a lot more of the Seattle riot business on the house. He was asked why he did not wait until next week, but explained that he was going to the Pacific coast for six weeks.

"Don't the gentleman think," asked Adamson of Georgia, "that is a cruel sarcasm on the part of us at this stage of the session to have that published?"

"It takes me nearly two weeks to go and come," explained Bryan, adding, "Considering the temperature as it stands today, I guess I am guilty of cruelty to animals."

Everybody's Friend.

"I want to say at the outset," began Congressman Howard of Georgia, who was trying to get something in an appropriation bill for Atlanta, "that I have the most affectionate regard for every member of the house on this side and a sneaking and affectionate regard for every member on the Republican side."

He got his amendment adopted.

PATASKALA, O. FIREMAN DIES FROM INJURIES

Joseph W. Thorp of Pataskala, fireman of the Pennsylvania train wrecked near Bellefontaine last Tuesday, died at the Reid Memorial hospital at Richmond, Ind., Friday night from injuries received when the train was derailed. His wife and two daughters survive, besides his mother, Mrs. William P. Thorp of Pataskala. The body was taken to Pataskala Sunday for funeral and interment which occurred at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Stone officiated at the services.

ENDS DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" cures sick, sour stomach in five minutes—Stop starving stomach!

"Really does," put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, indigestible food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your inside filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

LAST OUTING FOR THE ELKS THIS SEASON

Thursday, the last Elk outing of the season, will occur at Beach Island. The entertainment committee, Messrs. Wm. H. Broome, Frank Schimpf and Frank Garry, has promised to make it the banner one of the year and a great treat is in store for all who attend. Joseph Kuster, Jr., will outdo all his former efforts and has promised to provide delicacies that would tempt any chronic dyspeptic. An impromptu band will be created in front of the club house and the address of welcome will be delivered at 10 o'clock by Chairman Broome, and the response will be made by Colonel George Warner. A string orchestra of nine pieces will then take the stand and provide music throughout the day. A program of water sports will start at 11 o'clock and the fun will be fast and furious. Tryouts will be given the vocalists who expect to participate in the forthcoming monster minstrel production of the lodge this winter. As over 150 local members will participate it is expected that excellent new talent will be developed.

Athletic sports will start at 1 o'clock and will include several boxing exhibitions, one of which will be 10-rounds by semi-professionals from Columbus. An excellent wrestling match has been arranged and the day will conclude with a stag dance on the club house lawn.

The special cars will leave the interurban station at 9 a. m. Thursday and it is a foregone conclusion that nearly every Elk in the city will be on hand for the gala day which is promised them.

BUCKEYE PARK CLOSED SUNDAY; BIG CROWD OUT

Buckeye Lake Park closed for the season Sunday, a large crowd being present at the lake. All the concessions with the exception of three or four had closed several days ago. Dancing was indulged in and the floor was crowded throughout the afternoon and evening.

Numerous fishermen spent the day on the lake and many good catches were made. The boats were all well patronized considering that the weather was a little chilly.

Manager Harris reports a splendid season, one of the best enjoyed for a number of years. The Park is becoming noted as one of the prettiest in the state for those desiring recreation and each year sees the patronage increased.

The present interurban rate will continue until Sunday, September 21, when the winter schedule will go into effect on the Ohio Electric.

CITIES MAY TAKE NEW CENSUS IS HOGAN'S RULING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Sept. 15.—Municipalities of Ohio may take a new census of which to base their share of salaries after the council has authorized it, Attorney General Hogan ruled today, in answer to an inquiry from C. P. McGintock, village solicitor of Brewster. Since the license law allows a saloon for each parcel of 500 inhabitants, this ruling will permit a number of villages to increase their number of liquor houses by one, provided the new census will put the population over another 500 mark.

MUST SETTLE FOR LUNCH AND TICKETS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Sept. 15.—Lunch and carfare in their home cities are expenses which cannot be paid state employees by the state, Attorney General Hogan told Superintendent of Banks Henry Lattner today. Bank examiners living in Cincinnati and working there had wanted reimbursement for cost of their noon meals and street car fare, on the grounds that they could do more work if they did not have to go home at noon. Street car tickets while at home are not included in "traveling expenses," the attorney general holds.

SPORT WRITER OF NOTE DIES AT PHILADELPHIA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—Frank L. Hough, sporting editor of the Philadelphia Enquirer, died at his home here today after a long illness. He was 55 years old. Mr. Hough as a sporting writer was known from coast to coast. At various times he had a financial interest in both boxing and baseball.

When the American league expanded to the East in 1901, Mr. Hough was instrumental in placing it on a firm foundation in this city and had much to do with bringing players from the national league over to the rival organization. He held an interest in the Philadelphia Athletics until last fall when he sold his stock to Connie Mack.

IN IMMEDIATE EFFECT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Sept. 15.—Tax may be levied immediately on inheritance gifts to persons other than parents, husband, wife or lineal descendants or adopted children greater than $500, according to a ruling given today by Attorney General Hogan to Thomas L. Poane, prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county. The question was whether the inheritance tax law passed by the last general assembly goes into immediate effect. The ruling is that it does.

Every article in the store room without a single exception, has been unmercifully slaughtered and must be disposed of at once regardless of former cost. In every department you will find floods of bargains—bargains that will astonish and delight the most exacting buyer. Right now is the opportune time to purchase a suit or overcoat. We have thousands of garments to choose from at a saving from two-thirds to one-half the price you would be obliged to pay your regular dealer.

Over four thousand pairs of Men's Pants have been relentlessly cut in prices. You can now purchase two pair for the price of one.

Men's Furnishings, Hats, etc., almost given away. This is a bona-fide closing out sale. Stock must be sold, as I refuse to move a single garment to my Columbus store, where I have secured a lease for ten years at No. 269 S. High street.

Thousands of buyers are attending this great sale daily. Saturday we were forced to lock the doors in order to take care of the mighty crowds of buyers who are taking advantage of this great sale. Fixtures and show cases for sale. Trade here and save from two-thirds to one-half.

Chief Cause Of Criminality

No Man Totally Depraved, Says Pastor Russell

THE SIN OF FATHER ADAM.

Born With Criminal Instincts, Life Is a Battle Against Them—There Is None Righteous, No, Not One—Where Lies the Blame?—The Value of a Correct Diagnosis—We Can Oppose Sin Best When We Know Its Origin, Aids and Disadvantages in Fighting Sin—Divine Help Necessary—How the Needful Is Provided.

Cumberland, Md., September 14.—Pastor Russell gave two discourses here to-day. We report one of them, on the text, "I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me." (Psalm 51:5.) He said: "Diagnosis is valuable in the treatment of any malady. This is as true of sin-sickness, depravity, as of any other ailment of humanity. The better we understand the origin of sin and the methods of its operation in ourselves and in others, the more successful we shall be in combating it. We must know what helps to feed the ailment and what tends to destroy it. Our forefathers erred, evidently, in their declaration of total depravity. None of us ever met a human being entirely depraved—entirely devoid of sympathy for righteousness and truth—dead to all good influences. Experience, however, does corroborate the Bible statement that 'there is none righteous, no, not one'—all are sinners. Moreover, the Bible goes to the root of the matter; and experience corroborates its statement in our text—that we and all humanity were born in a state of sin, with the predilection or inclination toward sin. We are not, however, to conclude that God made us sinners; for the Bible contradicts that thought, and assures us that 'all His work is perfect.' According to the Bible, we received our lives from our parents; and they theirs from their parents; and so back to Father Adam. The Bible tells us that our parents sinned, and came under the Divine sentence of death; and that this meant mental and moral, as well as physical, degeneracy. The Apostle declares, 'By one man's disobedience sin entered into the world, and death by sin.'—Romans 5:12. This curse of death which came upon the race, and which affects us from the moment of birth, is a terrible blight. Even though it is much more reasonable than the curse declared by our mistaken creeds—the curse of eternal torment—nevertheless the curse of God is sufficiently terrible, and world-wide. The penalty, 'Dying, thou shalt die,' is much less horrible than if it had read, 'Living, thou shalt live in eternal torment.' When, therefore, we find in ourselves and others wayward, sinful tendencies, we reflect that these are evidences of the fall, the curse, and that all who are under such influences are to be pitied. True pity, however, must not be sympathy with sin, but with the sinner, who is handicapped by the predisposition to sin. Sin calls for radical measures for its extermination; for the release of the sinner; but our best efforts for them and for others will be attained through a knowledge of the facts, and through the exercise of the proper sympathy. There are probably more people injured through lack of sympathetic help than are helped by the administration of cold-blooded justice without tenderness or sympathy. We have been slow to learn this lesson. Parental Sympathy Needed. Undoubtedly as human sympathy expands through a knowledge of the facts, both parents and children will be blessed by that increase of knowledge. Parents need to learn that their own mental moods and sympathies with right or wrong serve to stamp, to birth-mark their children, either favorably or unfavorably. The parents of a vicious child should reflect that they had much to do with that viciousness. Properly informed and right-willed, they might have produced the child with a much more favorable organism. It requires a great deal of training to work out of the child's disposition that which was latent at its birth. Indeed, the probability is that only a small portion of it will ever be eradicated in this life. We are not forgetting the Scripture which says, "Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean?" We remember this, and merely suggest that the imperfect slumber-child, shapen to iniquity and conceived in sin, may have more or less of sinful disposition. We are suggesting that a weighty responsibility rests upon parents in respect to the pre-natal influences exercised, as well as to their parental obligations after their children are born. With what care, what loyalty to God and righteousness, what desire to maintain purity of heart and loveliness of character, the procreative powers should be exercised! With what care the father should surround the mother with every good influence helpful to her mental serenity, joy, peace, justice, reverence, love, during the period of gestation! What noble characters might thus be born into the world, even though still imperfect, sin-stained! What a different world in many respects we might be living in today, if parents had recognized these principles and felt their responsibilities and lived up to them! Thank God, death does not end all! and the lessons now being learned through disappointments and tears will, we believe, in many instances prove profitable in the great Hereafter. "Brethren, What Shall We Do?" This was the question asked of the Apostle Peter by those who heard him preach and learned that we were sinners under condemnation. We should discern that the question is not, What shall we do to escape damnation, or condemnation? We were born in damnation, condemned to death as unworthy of life. The Divine decree is that no sinner may have everlasting life. It is a gift of God, designed, not for sinners, but for those who are perfect, sinless. Adam was condemned to death as soon as he became a transgressor; and all of his children were born in the same condemned condition. Condemnation passed upon all men because all are sinners. All are imperfect, fallen. Our text tells us that they were born in this fallen, disapproved or condemned condition. The question with us, then, is not, What shall we do to escape coming under condemnation? for the whole world is condemned already. (John 3:18.) The question is, How shall we, who are already condemned of God as unworthy of everlasting life, get free from that condition in which we were born and get back into that condition of perfection which God will approve, in which we should be accounted worthy of everlasting life? The Bible answers our question. It tells us that God has had compassion upon our race and has provided the Savior. It explains that for God to be just and yet grant forgiveness to the sinner requires that One shall pay substitutionally the penalty originally pronounced against Father Adam. This being effected, the Redeemer will have the right to restore to perfection Adam and all his posterity desirous of returning to God. The Message respecting this merciful arrangement is called the Gospel—the Good Tidings that there is a way of return from sin to holiness and from condemnation to death back to justification of life. "Times of Restitution." As we have seen, the thing needful for all who desire to return to God's favor is that they may be restored to that condition of physical perfection in which Adam was before he sinned. When thus restored, they would have the same opportunity of demonstrating loyalty to God that Adam had at first. If they, when recovered, stand the tests of loyalty and obedience, they shall receive God's gift of everlasting life. And they shall receive it through Jesus Christ; for the way was opened up by His sacrificial death, "the Just for the unjust," and their salvation accomplished by His work of Restitution. Not until recently have Bible students discerned how far our forefathers have been confused in respect to the Divine Plan—through neglect of the Bible for fourteen hundred years. They now see that Jesus and the Apostles and Prophets taught that God's great time for dealing with the world is yet future—under Messiah's Kingdom. The thousand years in which that Kingdom shall rule the world, restraining sin, chastising sinners and helping the willing and obedient back to perfection, is called by St. Peter "Times of Restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by all His holy Prophets."—Acts 3:21. The restitutionary work of those thousand years will be accomplished by the power of Messiah's Kingdom, and the Elect Church of this Gospel Age will be associated with the Redeemer in His Throne and in the great work of restoring the obedient of mankind to perfection. That thousand years is also called the time of the world's resurrection or raising up—anastasis. Bible students now discern that the word resurrection in the Greek signifies more than merely the awakening from death. It signifies the lifting up of the individuals to human perfection—to that which was lost by Adam and redeemed by Jesus' death. During those Times of Restitution, Satan is to be bound, that he may no longer deceive humanity, as he has been doing with false doctrines, putting light for darkness and darkness for light. On the contrary, the time when he, the Prince of Darkness, is cast down from influence amongst men will be the time when Christ and His Bride, the Church, will become the Sun of Righteousness to the world and scatter all its ignorance and superstition. (Matthew 13:43.) Respecting that time the Bible assures us that all the sin-blinded eyes shall be opened, and all the sin-deaf ears shall be unstopped, and the true Message of God's Love shall be made known, and "the knowledge of the glory of the Lord shall fill the whole earth."

God's Dealing With the Church. God has a special plan and a special salvation for the Church. He desires that the Church shall consist of a very special class. He has issued a special call therefore, and has prescribed special terms or conditions for members of this class. All who will be accepted as members of the Bride, the Lamb's Wife, must have the same spirit, mind or disposition that Jesus had. Did He delight to do the Father's will? So must these. Was He willing to be obedient to the Father's will to the extent of sacrificing earthly pleasures and advantages? and to the extent of death? So must His followers walk in His steps, as He has set them an example, looking unto Jesus, the Author and Finisher of their faith. The invitation to these is that if they suffer with Christ they may also reign with Him, share His nature and glory and honor. They are advised from the first that the footsteps of Jesus are the way of the cross. These disciples of Jesus in the present Age are figuratively styled "soldiers of the cross," and Jesus is declared to be the Captain of their salvation, leading them on through victories to glory. Their battle in some respects is the same as the world will have in the next Age, only more intense, more concentrated. The world will have a thousand years in which to fight and win. The battle of the Church as a whole is more than eighteen centuries long, but each individual share is much shorter. The coming Age will be the world's time for gaining a victory and escaping from the condemnation, the imperfection, that came upon all the race through Adam's sin.

Children of Wrath as Others. We are not to think of those whom God accepts as the Church as being different by nature from the remainder of mankind. On the contrary, we are particularly informed that we were born "children of wrath, even as others." But this special class get free from the condemnation, or damnation, that came upon the race through Adam in a different way from that of the world in the next Age. They first exercise faith in God's promises and in Jesus as the Redeemer. They realize by faith that the merit of His death is the basis of deliverance from the damnation, or condemnation, passed upon all and of reconciliation with God and restitution to perfection and attainment of everlasting life. The Kingdom of Messiah, through which these blessings are to be extended to mankind, having not yet been established, these believers cannot get these blessings. However, to them comes a special message or invitation to become members of the Kingdom class—"heirs of God and joint-heirs with Jesus Christ" their Lord; "if so be that they will suffer with Him, that they may be also glorified together" and share the Kingdom.—Romans 8:17; 2 Timothy 2:12.

Charmed with the prospect, these are not daunted by the trials and difficulties of the way, especially when they

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief From Few Doses of Croxone. Croxone soon relieves such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped-up inactive kidneys through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; heals the inflamed membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, lifeless kidneys so they can filter and sift all the poisons from the blood and drive it out of the system. So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three doses a day for a few days are often all that is required to end the worst backache, regulate the most annoying bladder disorders and overcome the numerous other similar conditions. Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed.

hear the Redeemer's Word encouraging them and saying, "Fear not, I have overcome the world." "Greater is He that is on your part than all they that be against you." "My strength is made perfect in your weakness." "All things shall work together for good to them that love God—to the called ones according to His purpose."

Thus encouraged these believers make a full consecration of themselves to God and His service, realizing and confessing their own imperfection and insufficiency, and pledging themselves to fight a good fight against sin in every form under the captaincy of Jesus. Jesus becomes the Advocate of all who come unto the Father through Him during this Age. He supplements their sacrifice in such a manner as to make it perfect—both acceptable to God. (Romans 12:1.) They give their wills, and resign all earthly interests and rights. He adds to their sacrifice all those restitution qualities which would be theirs in due time under the Kingdom. Thus they stand complete in Him.

When the Father accepts these by the begetting of His Holy Spirit they become His children. His saints, "heirs of God and joint-heirs with Jesus Christ" to "the inheritance incorruptible and undecaying, reserved in Heaven" for them.—1 Peter 1:3-5.

Then the Fight Begins. Every battle against sin is a good fight—whether it be the battling of the world during the Times of Restitution, or the battlings of the Church during this Age. But because God designs to give the Church a higher nature, a greater salvation, therefore He requires of every member of it a special demonstration of love and loyalty. And who will say that this is not a reasonable requirement of these sons?

These spirit-begotten sons are all alike in the sense that they have one mind, one spirit, one disposition—the Spirit of Christ, the spirit of holiness, the spirit of loyalty to God. But these are all distinctly different as respects their flesh. All are imperfect, but some more and some less so. Some are more and some less educated; some more and some less wise; some more and some less talented. But the tests are all under Divine supervision. The Lord sees to it that each shall be thoroughly tested. Each must have trials, difficulties, besetments, from the world, the Adversary and his own flesh. Each must personally demonstrate his loyalty to the principles for which Christ died—the principles of righteousness.

The chief lessons for all of these sons of God to learn are:

- (1) Faith in God—full trust in Him and His providences;
- (2) Loyalty to Him—to the principles of His Government, and to all those whom He has accepted as sons.
- (3) They must all possess in large degree God's own Spirit of love, kindness, gentleness and mercy, as well as of the Truth.

They will not, however, be judged holy according to the flesh. Rather, judgment, or decision, in their cases will be rendered according to the spirit, the intention, the will. They will be rewarded for what they have endeavored to do and have striven to do in harmony with the Divine will, rather than according to the success they have attained.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and thickness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mutes the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and straggly, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get it any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Everybody use "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw it through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

TO IMPROVE THE SERVICE FOR WOMEN

Secretary of Agriculture Asks Suggestions from Wives and Daughters of 50,000 Farmers.

Washington, Sept. 15.—David F. Houston, secretary of agriculture, within the next few days will address a letter to the women members of 50,000 farm households throughout the United States, requesting them to give him information as to how the Department of Agriculture can best serve the needs of the farm women.

These letters will be addressed "To Housewives in the Homes of the Official Crop Correspondents" and will be sent to the full list of Crop Correspondents for transmission to the women members of their households. With each letter will be supplied a return envelope in which the women can forward their suggestions. This inquiry results from the receipt of a letter addressed to the Secretary in which the writer said:

"The farm woman has been the most neglected factor in the rural problem and she has been especially neglected by the national Department of Agriculture."

This letter was written not by a woman but by a broad-minded man so thoroughly in touch with the agricultural and domestic needs of the country that his opinions have great weight. Following the receipt of this letter, the secretary determined that the best way for the Department to learn how to give these women the fullest aid and service which their important place in agricultural production warranted, was to write to the women themselves and ask them to make their own suggestions.

In the letter these women are invited to give individual answers to the letter or to discuss the matter in their church societies or women's organizations and submit answers representing the combined opinions of the women of their entire communities. The answers are requested not later than November 15th and this date is set because it will give the women time after harvest to consider the matter and discuss it with their women neighbors.

This letter will go to about twenty leading farms in each of the twenty-eight hundred counties of the United States. Their answers, it is expected, will represent the views and opinions of upwards of 500,000 farm women. These answers will be carefully considered by the specialists of the Department having to do with that branch of agricultural activity.

NEW BULLETIN ON THE HOME GROUNDS

In order to show how all persons, with a little planning, can use a few trees, shrubs and flowers to beautify their home surroundings, Prof. V. H. Davis, of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, has written a valuable bulletin on "The Planning of Home Grounds." In discussing the subject at the beginning of this new Extension bulletin, which is now available to the public, Professor Davis says: "It is remarkable how much cheap and simple materials, in connection with just a little planning and labor, will do in the way of making the home grounds more livable and attractive. The nature of our home surroundings plays a vastly greater part in our daily welfare than most of us realize, and appreciate. This problem is worth considering from the standpoint of keeping up the interest of the boys and girls in the home. Neat and attractive home surroundings of which a boy or girl may be proud will be a powerful factor in the development of a contented and happy life. The question of why the boy leaves the farm might be answered by pointing to the slovenly and untidy home surroundings. The home in all too many cases is only an additional shed for the sheltering of the human 'live stock' of the farm, and often this shed is the least attractive of the entire collection."

First Things

The first serious railway accident in history occurred eighty-three years ago today, when William Huskisson, M. P., was killed at the opening of the Liverpool and Manchester railway in England. The first great railway disaster in which many lives were lost occurred on a French line at Versailles in 1842. The carriages, with the passengers locked in, were burned, and fifty-three people, including Admiral D'Urville, were victims of this gross carelessness. One of the most terrible of early railway disasters in America was at Burlington, Pa., in 1858, when over a hundred were killed in a collision. Canada's first great disaster occurred in 1861, when a train ran off a bridge at St. Hilaire, and eighty-three were killed and 200 injured. The railroads of the United States lead the world in railroad fatalities. An average of about 10,000 killed and 100,000 injured each year is maintained by the roads of the United States. The average for Great Britain is about 1,000 killed and 10,000 injured. During 1911 only fourteen passengers were killed on British railways, as compared with 315 in the United States.

MURDER

pointed assistant rector of St. Boniface's church in that city. There he met the Annmuller girl, who he said, had come to this country from Germany a few months before.

"I was attracted by her beauty," said Schmidt's alleged confession. "I became infatuated with her. I loved her. I killed her. She was so beautiful, so good. I could not let her live without me. I had made up my mind that she and I should not live together. I was a priest and must remain with my church. I could not let her go away from me. So I opened the door of the flat. I awakened her. I told her I had come to fulfill my threat. Then I drew the knife across her throat."

The skill with which the young woman's body had been dismembered caused the police to believe at first that the work had been done by a surgeon. In the flat occupied for five days by Schmidt and the girl, detectives found few printed cards which indicated that Schmidt had masqueraded as a surgeon and was possessed of more than an ordinary layman's knowledge of surgery. These cards read as follows: "Dr. Emil Meliere, formerly assistant surgeon of the Municipal Woman's Hospital, Paris France. Representative of the Chemical Hygiene Manufacturing company."

A gayly-colored pillow of unusual pattern led to Schmidt's apprehension. This pillow, stained with blood, and soiled with the filth of the river, was wrapped around a portion of the torso. The detectives traced the pillow to its manufacturer; the manufacturer traced it to the dealer; the dealer traced it to Schmidt. And the police, tracing Schmidt and the girl, knew all about both of them hours before they arrested him.

Schmidt was arrested by Inspector Faurot, in charge of the detective bureau. He was dressed in full clerical garb when the detective entered his rooms in the parish house of his church in West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. The inspector had produced a photograph of Miss Annmuller and asked Schmidt if he knew the girl.

The minister, after a moment of hesitation, inquired whether his visitors were police officers. His actions indicated that he was expecting arrest. He then asked permission to change his clothes and it was when he left the room that Inspector Faurot declared he attempted to cut his throat with a small safety razor blade.

Early Sunday, according to parishioners of the church, Schmidt said to the Rev. Mr. Huntmann, rector of Joseph's church, that he would hear no more confessions and when asked for his reason said:

"I have something of importance to tell you."

With his superior, Schmidt then retired to the study, where the latter told all that had transpired in the Broadhurst avenue flat, where his alleged confession to the police says he murdered the girl. Rev. Mr. Huntmann conferred with his other assistants and it was agreed that the authorities should be notified. The police, however, were even then on Schmidt's trail and his arrest followed shortly.

Schmidt was taken to the Tombs. According to the police, he made a full confession after which he was taken before Coroner Feinberg, who committed him to the Tombs until the inquest is held. The confession, which the police say Schmidt signed, follows:

"I met Anna Annmuller two years ago at the parish he used of St. Boniface church. She was employed as a servant there. I was attracted to her beauty. I became infatuated with her. I loved her."

"I killed her because I loved her so much. She was so beautiful, so good. I could not let her live without me."

"I had made up my mind that she and I could not live together. I was a priest and must remain with my church. I could not let her go away from me. So I opened the door of the flat. I awakened her. I told her I had come to fulfill my threat. Then I drew the knife across her throat."

"I cut the body into six pieces. I made trips to the Fort Lee Ferry, each time with a part of her precious body in a bundle. When the ferry boat reached the middle of the stream I would throw a piece into the water, and when the boat reached the other side of the river I would return and go back to the flat."

"After I had disposed of the body I wanted to destroy all evidences of the crime. I took the mattress on which I had slain her and carried it to a vacant lot and there I burned it. I am guilty; that is all I can say. I must pay the penalty. There is nothing else for me to do. But I loved Anna Annmuller."

"She wanted me to marry her and I procured a marriage license. I trusted me."

"I am a priest and ordained to perform the marriage ceremony, so when

An Unusual Display Of The NEWEST STYLE SUITS & COATS

For Women & Misses----Better For The Price----What'er The Price

Our showing of women's and misses' new Suits and Coats is already as large and varied now, as it generally is a month hence. The reason of this is that we have learned that women everywhere are not waiting until late into the season before deciding what kind of a suit or coat they are going to wear the coming season—that a majority of them have already known for several weeks just the kind of a suit she desired uppermost in her mind.

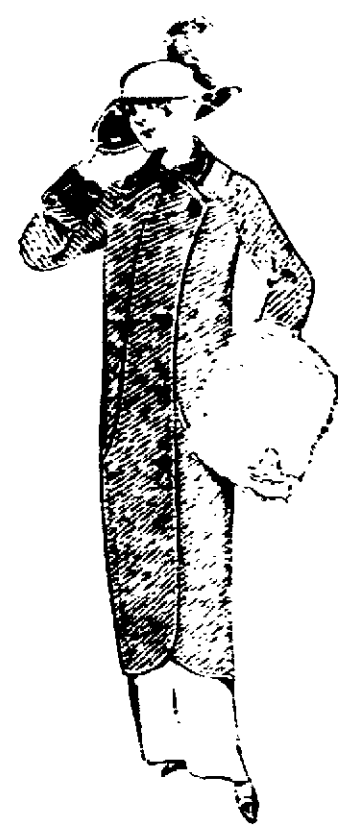

Therefore, our line is the most extensive we have ever had at this time of the season. Every garment is an unusual value and with the stock complete in every detail, many women will make their selection here this week.

New Coats $12.50, 15, 18.50, 22.50 up

New Suits $13.50, 15, 18.50, 22.50 up

We count ourselves fortunate in securing several hundred beautiful coats, in both women's and misses' sizes that we can offer at the above popular prices.

Every one splendidly tailored and cut in the season's leading style, various lengths; materials are heavy pile fabrics, soft in texture and quite serviceable. Among the fabrics are: Cut Chinchilla, Boucles, Eponges, Astrachan, Novelty Stripes, Diagonals, etc.

she insisted upon a ceremony. I married myself to her. There was no need of any other priest's doing it. It was just as absolute as if I had called in another person with authority to perform a marriage ceremony. She was my wife."

Little is known of the history of Anna Annmuller before she took employment in the St. Boniface parish house the week before Christmas, 1910. According to a statement issued last night by the Rev. Mr. Braun, she left his parish house in the summer of 1911, returning on Thanksgiving day, 1912, and left the second time August 30 last. At this time she said she was about to be married and go to Ohio to live. The Rev. Mr. Braun said that he and his sister, who "his housekeeper had become attached to," the girl because she was a very pleasant and faithful worker.

"All I know about her," he said, "is that she came to this country from Germany about two and a half years ago. I understand she was an orphan and I have a dim recollection that she may possibly have come to us through an advertisement that I placed in a newspaper for a girl. While she had no credentials, I employed her."

Despite her statement to another maid employed in the rectory that she was leaving to be married, the Rev. Mr. Braun said last night that he was forced to discharge her two weeks ago "because her mode of living was unsatisfactory."

The many clues presented by amateur detectives and by the parents and friends of missing girls as to the possible identity of the murdered young woman, did not lead the men under Inspector Faurot's lead, and a clever piece of detective work finally led to clearing up of the mystery.

Inspector Faurot had assigned Detectives James J. O'Neil, Frank Cassassa and Richard McKenna to locate the house or flat where the murder was committed. They made a house-to-house search in the vicinity of the store of George Sachs in Elisha avenue, where he purchased the pillow slip in which parts of the body were wrapped. In this same locality the far paper found with parts of the torso was traced. It was learned, however, that the only pillow slip in the description, not previously traced, had been sent to a purchaser of the Bradburns' avenue address. On Saturday the detectives learned that the third floor rear apartment had been rented recently, but the occupants had not been seen for several days. An inspection of the flat convinced them they had found the apartment where the river victim's body was dissected. On the floor were stains and articles of wearing apparel and baggage.

In the suit were two trunks and a satchel, the property of Miss Annmuller, as well as letters that connected her with the rectory of St. Boniface church. And with this information, a description from the superintendent of the apartment house of the man who had rented the flat, the detectives followed Rev. Mr. Braun, rector of St. Boniface's.

From Braun the detectives learned that Miss Annmuller left his employment two weeks ago and that Schmidt, while an assistant rector there, had shown unusual interest in the girl. Piecing their threads of evidence together, the detectives delved into the life of Schmidt, and Sunday night laid the facts before Inspector Faurot.

With the three detectives and his secretary, Inspector Faurot went over the evidence, to be sure that nothing remained, and at an early hour Sunday morning they arrived at the rectory of St. Joseph's church. The arrest of Schmidt followed a few moments later.

While not denying that the accused man had been ordained and had been permitted to officiate at services in this city, an authoritative statement issued yesterday after his arrest from the head of the New York diocese characterized him as a "wanderer" and not a minister of the diocese, and was not being so recognized, although he was assigned to assist the rectors of its churches.

After his arrest and while en route to the Tombs, Schmidt was questioned by the detectives. They asked him what he had done with the mattress and he told them, they said, Inspector Faurot stopped the machine at the vacant lot and the charred remains of the mattress were found. Then Schmidt was asked where he bought the knife and the saw with which the body of Miss Annmuller was cut up. He indicated a shop as they passed it. The car was stopped and Schmidt pointed to a knife with a 10-inch blade in the window as practically identical with the one he used. This shop is not far from the Tombs. Further up the street, Schmidt, the police say, pointed to two butcher's saws in a shop window.

"I bought one of those," he said, laconically.

Information regarding the early life of Anna Annmuller was given last night by her cousin, Joseph Izler. She was 24 years old, born in Odenburg, Hungary, and lived there until she came to this country in 1911. Her father died when she was a child, and she had been supported by an aunt, who sent her to a seminary. The girl was bright and pretty, and when she was graduated, in her seveneenth year, arrangements were made for her to receive a musical education. For some reason these arrangements were abandoned, and it was decided that she should come to the United States.

Izler said the girl's aunt was religiously inclined and through friends arrangements were made to have Anna cared for when she arrived here. During her infrequent calls at the home of Izler while she was at the St. Boniface rectory, she referred to Schmidt. She said that he had frequently been kind to her. She never gave Izler the slightest hint that she had any other interest in Schmidt than an admiration for his qualities as a pastor.

Under Suspension.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Mainz, Germany, Sept. 15.—The Journal says today that Johann Schmidt, belonging to the Mainz bishopric, has been long under suspension by the bishop. He disappeared from Mainz and later arrived in Munich, where he was arrested on a charge of committing a number of frauds, according to the newspaper. After he had been acquitted by the court on the ground of weak mindedness, he emigrated to New York. The Mainz Episcopate was not aware that he was exercising the functions of a priest in New York.

Ordained in 1907.

RING RETURNED; GIRL WOULDN'T PROSECUTE CASE

"Dismissed for want of prosecution" was the entry made on the docket of Major Schwartz in the case of Ohio against Harry Staley, charged with taking a $75 diamond ring from an East Newark young woman whom he met at Buckeye Lake during the summer. The ring was returned and the prosecuting witness did not care to enter the publicity which would follow the prosecution of the case. Staley agreed to pay the costs incurred in the prosecution of the case and has released from custody.

OPEN SEASON FOR SQUIRRELS STARTS TODAY

Monday marked the entrance of the hunting season and the exit of the straw hat season.

Dictators of fashion long since decreed that Sept. 15 is the day they ring the knell for the summer straw hat. Newark folks seem to have been pretty well informed on the subject, for perhaps it was the cold weather—the straw hats appear in the minority.

The hunting season opened with the usual stir. Hunters with guns, dogs, ammunition and paraphernalia were seen starting for the country early Monday morning, and it is a safe bet that the hunter will be a familiar visitor for several weeks on farms where the "no trespass" sign is not visible.
